ORDER

The Court issues this order sua sponte. The Court previously consolidated the above-captioned cases. (Dkt. No. 39.) In the past few months, the parties have filed nearly sixty motions. (See Dkt. Nos. 128, 139, 142, 154, 158, 176, 187, 193, 199, 202, 218, 219, 220, 221, 222, 223, 224, 225, 226, 271, 273, 274, 279, 284, 285, 288, 295, 337, 338, 340, 341, 342, 343, 344, 345, 346, 347, 348, 349, 350, 351, 352, 353, 354, 355, 356, 357, 358, 359, 360, 362, 363, 364, 365, 366, 367, 368, 369, 370, 374, 375, 380, 383, 462.) It is apparent that many of these motions affect one case, but not the other. (See e.g., Dkt. Nos. 273, 337, 340, 344.) It is overwhelmingly apparent that consolidation of the above-captioned cases is not producing the efficiency gains that consolidation is designed to produce. In fact, the opposite appears to be the case. It is now clear that it would be beneficial if these cases were deconsolidated to follow their own separate schedules.

Accordingly, it is ORDERED that the District Clerk DECONSOLIDATE the Micron case, Case No. 2:22-cv-294, from the Samsung case, Case No. 2:22-cv-293. It is further ORDERED that the Micron case, Case No. 2:22-cv-294, is pecially set for trial on April 22, 2024, and the pretrial conference for the same is set for 9:00 a.m. CST on March 6, 2024. It is further ORDERED that the pretrial conference and trial dates for the Samsung case, Case No. 2:22-cv-293, are cancelled to be reset at a later date.

The parties are ORDERED to file a joint notice no later than five (5) days from the issuance of this Order indicating what specific motions are currently pending in regard to the Micron case and what motions are currently pending in regard to the Samsung case. The parties shall file such notices separately in each deconsolidated case.

So ORDERED and SIGNED this 28th day of February, 2024.

RODNEY GILSTRAP
UNITED STATES DISTRICT JUDGE
